Consular Notification

When a child who is a U.S. citizen is taken into protective custody and the child's parent(s) is/are detained by U.S. Department of Homeland Security officials, caseworkers are not required to contact the consulate but may do so at the request of the parent(s).

Reason: Children's Services Agency recommendation.

Minor Corrections

Minor corrections were made, including changing references to U.S. Citizen and Immigration Services to U.S. Department of Homeland Security, updating hyperlinks, and formatting changes.
